PARLIAMENTARY DIGNITY

In the course of a parliamentary inquiry into the position of sundry leading banks and corporations of New Zealand, William Watson, president of the Bank of New Zealand, was the first witness examined by the House select committee. He refused to answer a question as to who were the persons in whose favor amounts aggregating more than one million dollars were written off subsequent to the balance sheet of 1888. His reason was that he and all the officers of the bank had signed a declaration that they would not disclose anything relating to individual accounts. He had been appointed to conserve the interests of the colony and the shareholders, and he contended that it would be against such interests to divulge the information, and it was his duty not to divulge it. The Premier said it was a question then whether the bank officers should be masters of the House of Representatives. On the following day the question was renewed, when Mr. Watson formally repeated his answer. Next the chairman of the committee reported the matter to the House. The bank president was brought to the bar and questioned by the Speaker, when he said he believed, if he were to answer such questions, the customers of the bank would fall away and the colony would suffer. Counsel for Mr. Watson addressed the House in defense of his position, but a motion made by the Premier, to fine Mr. Watson $2500 and detain him in custody until the amount was paid, was carried by a vote of 36 to 26. The fine was paid, but the president was not called before the committee again. Mr. Booth, one of the bank directors, refused a request to produce a number of documents, as they referred to the private affairs of the bank, but at latest accounts no motion had been made to bring him before the House in the way in which the president was treated. The incident has general interest as illustrating the old question, variously decided in different countries, of privileges of witnesses holding private confidences of certain kinds. Statements made to spiritual advisers and confessors, knowledge gained by physicians in their practice and, as in the instance here given, facts relative to the financial standing of persons known to bank officers, as private trustees, frequently become bones of contention in the courts.

"A Californian on a visit here said such exhibitions did more for his State than all the other advertising," says the Advertiser. California does not have "such" exhibitions as the sample room show the Advertiser advocates.

Support by the Advertiser of the proposal to institute a general cleaning-up of the city as a precautionary measure is hereby duly acknowledged. It is a matter that should be considered without delay by the Board of Health.

There ought to be an official fee prescribed for health certificates to school children by Government physicians in the country districts. The absence of any regulation in the matter leaves a door open for oppression.

FOREIGN JURY TRIAL.

Fraud Specified Against Kazamatsu—Estate of Akana.

Ah Sam withdrew his plea of not guilty, and, pleading guilty to the charge of common nuisance, was sentenced by Judge Carter to six months' imprisonment. Thurston & Stanley for defendant.

Two out of ten Chinese, charged with gambling, having withdrawn their appeal had their sentences in the District Court affirmed with $2.50 costs each. The other eight had a nolle prosequi entered for them by Deputy Attorney General Dole and were discharged. Robertson for defendants.

Minna Crenmer had her trial, for selling liquor without license, by a foreign jury today. Counsel are closing this afternoon. Dole for the Republic; Rosa for defendant.

Akama and Akina, administrators of the estate of Akana, under notice to show cause why they should not be committed for contempt, filed their accounts and asked for discharge. Receipts are given as $14,794.83 and payments $15,207.46, showing $412.73 due the administrators. Judge Carter ordered that the accounts and books be submitted to the receiver for examination, and that the administrators go to Kona to review the accounts with the receiver. An order has issued to W. F. Wilson, receiver, to sell the leasehold and coffee planting interests of the estate. Henshall for petitioner; Thurston & Stanley for the widow; De Bolt for the administrators.

H. Hackfeld & Co. have filed an amended motion in opposition to the discharge of Kazamatsu from bankruptcy. They allege that in contemplation of becoming a bankrupt Kazamatsu made a transfer of part of his property to prevent its coming into the hands of the assignees. They say he paid Yotsumoto, his partner or agent, $1500 for the ostensible purpose of purchasing goods in Japan and has not delivered that amount to the assignee nor accounted for it.

Mrs. Lilia Hanaia petitions for letters of administration to herself on the estate of her late husband, which is valued at $1500.

Judge Carter gave judgment for plaintiff, awarding him the land and $100 damages, in the ejectment case of Tui Po Apa vs. Hen Qwai and others.

Inventories have been filed of the estates of the late Thomas Sorenson and Querino Fernandes.

ON CREAM SEPARATORS.

A short time ago we introduced the De Laval Cream Separators to the notice of the public through this column but we were compelled to change our advertisement in a few days as the demand created by it soon exhausted the supply of Separators we had on hand.

We have just received a fresh supply and again call attention to their merits.

Have you one or more cows? If so, what is your purpose in keeping them? Is it your object to get the most money from them, with at same time some comfort and satisfaction? Are you doing it?

Have you kept pace with the improvements in dairy apparatus? Have you ever stopped to consider the benefits of the Cream Separator,—not to the world, not to your neighbor, but to you personally and individually?

If not, you cannot do anything better, and the sooner the better. Everybody now understands the principle of centrifugal creaming. Gravity causes the cream to rise in the old way. The separator simply adds centrifugal force to gravity. It merely uses two natural forces instead of one only. It effects the complete separation of cream from milk, which is not possible in any other way, and in the most all around practical manner.

The De Laval Cream Separators are in almost universal use the world over. They have revolutionized dairying methods. The State Colleges and Experiment Stations all use and advocate them. More than 85,000 have been sold. All practical creameries have long used them. Progressive dairy farmers do so in all sections. There must be many users around you. No user of a De Laval machine ever did otherwise than endorse it.

The De Laval "Baby" or Dairy Cream Separators are now made in six different styles and sizes. They range in capacity from 150 lbs. per hour to 700 lbs. per hour. Capacity means separating capacity per hour. They are made for all requirements from the household buying its milk, to the dairy of from one cow to one hundred.

The De Laval machines are Hand machines. They are designed and constructed for hand use. Women and children run them. They are used almost wholly in such way. Still they may be attached to any sort of light power, from dog tread to engine.

We have also a smaller type of the same machine, which is designated as the "Humming Bird," especially intended for household use. It is very small, very compact, extremely simple, easily understood and cared for, safe and durable. It possesses every advantage to be found in any of the larger "Alpha" machines.

Why Hang On

to your type printed visiting card, when it is so easy to get the correct thing right at home.

No card but an engraved one is acceptable; others are considered shoddy and should not be used.

We know the correct thing, and any work turned out by us, will place you right in the swim.

Every effort is being made by us to keep this work at home, and if a strict adherence to San Francisco prices, combined with good clean work is any inducement to place orders here, we will get all your work from now on.

Bear in mind that we are not trying to meet the cut rates of Eastern Department stores for inferior work; but are doing good work, using the very best of material, and adhering closely to ruling rates in San Francisco.

Nor is the work confined to Cards alone, but Wedding and Society Stationery, Business Cards, Announcements, Bill Heads for Professional men, Embossing, and the general run of work coming under that head, have the same careful attention.

You may not need anything now, but it is well to bear in mind when the time comes, and save the expense of sending away for it.

W.W. DIMOND'S

We've said something, once or twice, about the beauties of the dining table when properly dressed with appropriate china and glassware. Everything depends upon the quality and artistic design.

You have had China news galore now for glassware. You've lived half your life with the impression that cut glass is too high priced an article for you to possess.

You are wrong. We are selling to day genuine cut glass salt cellars, individual, in different designs, for two bits each; they've sold in other stores in Honolulu as high as $2. It's the way we buy.

We have, also, sets consisting of a tray, one pepper and one salt, silver tops $2. You never heard of them being sold anywhere for less than $10. You never saw them before in Honolulu. Our stock goes from these small pieces to the heavier and larger dishes which sell at $150.

In the tumblers we offer a thoroughly finished article at 50 cents a dozen and in case you might wish to use them for preserve glasses, we throw in a tin top for each. We have an engraved decanter, holds a quart, 35 cents, a pressed glass pickle or olive dish for 10 cents, a berry set, 7 pieces, 75 cents.

The average man does not know how much glass is used in the household. We do, and we have 150 patterns of glasses to select from. In lamp chimneys we have all sorts. No. 1 A, three for a quarter; No. 2 A, ten cents each.
